TRAIL & DOWNTOWN MAP

Granby, Colorado

EXPLORING OUR PUBLIC LANDS

Granby is your gateway to 800,000+ acres of protected land. This vast backyard offers unparalleled access for every type of mountain adventurer.

National Forest: Surrounding Granby, sits the Sulphur Ranger District of the Arapaho National Forest. This forest provides hundreds of miles of multi-use trails just minutes from town as well as a number of camping options.

Arapaho National Recreation Area: Also part of the Sulphur Ranger District, ANRA is home to "The Great Lakes," this region includes Lake Granby, Shadow Mountain, Monarch, Willow Creek, and Meadow Creek Reservoirs.

Rocky Mountain National Park: Our quiet western entrance is a scenic 30-minute drive north. Enjoy the wildlife-rich Kawuneeche Valley and the iconic Trail Ridge Road. Note: Timed-entry reservations are required during peak hours from late May through mid-October.

BLM Lands: Located primarily west toward Kremmling, these rugged lands offer wide-open spaces for primitive camping, hunting, and Upper Colorado River access.

Passes & Permits: Most areas require a fee. The "America the Beautiful" pass is accepted at all four locations listed above. Individual day or week passes are available at some entrance stations or always on Recreation.gov.

Important Restrictions: Check for seasonal closures and current fire restrictions.

TRANSPORTATION, ROAD & WEATHER

Transportation: Ride-sharing services like Uber and Lyft are not reliably available in Grand County; please plan accordingly. While most visitors drive, you can arrive via Amtrak's California Zephyr or Bustang from Denver. For airport transfers, Home James, H&L Rides, Avalanche and Grand Mountain Rides offer DIA shuttles. Within town, use the Granby Connect on-demand app. To reach Grand Lake, Fraser or Winter Park, hop on The Lift bus. For local car rentals, there is Avalanche Car Rental.

Road & Weather: Mountain weather changes instantly. Sunshine in town does not guarantee clear skies on high passes. Check CDtrip.org for real-time closures and traction law updates before heading out. For Rocky Mountain National Park road conditions call (970) 586-1222

RESPONSIBLE RECREATION

Know Before You Go: Check weather and trail conditions. Always hike with a friend or tell someone your destination and expected return time.

Tread Lightly: Keep "singletrack single." Walk through puddles or snow rather than around them to prevent trail widening and erosion.

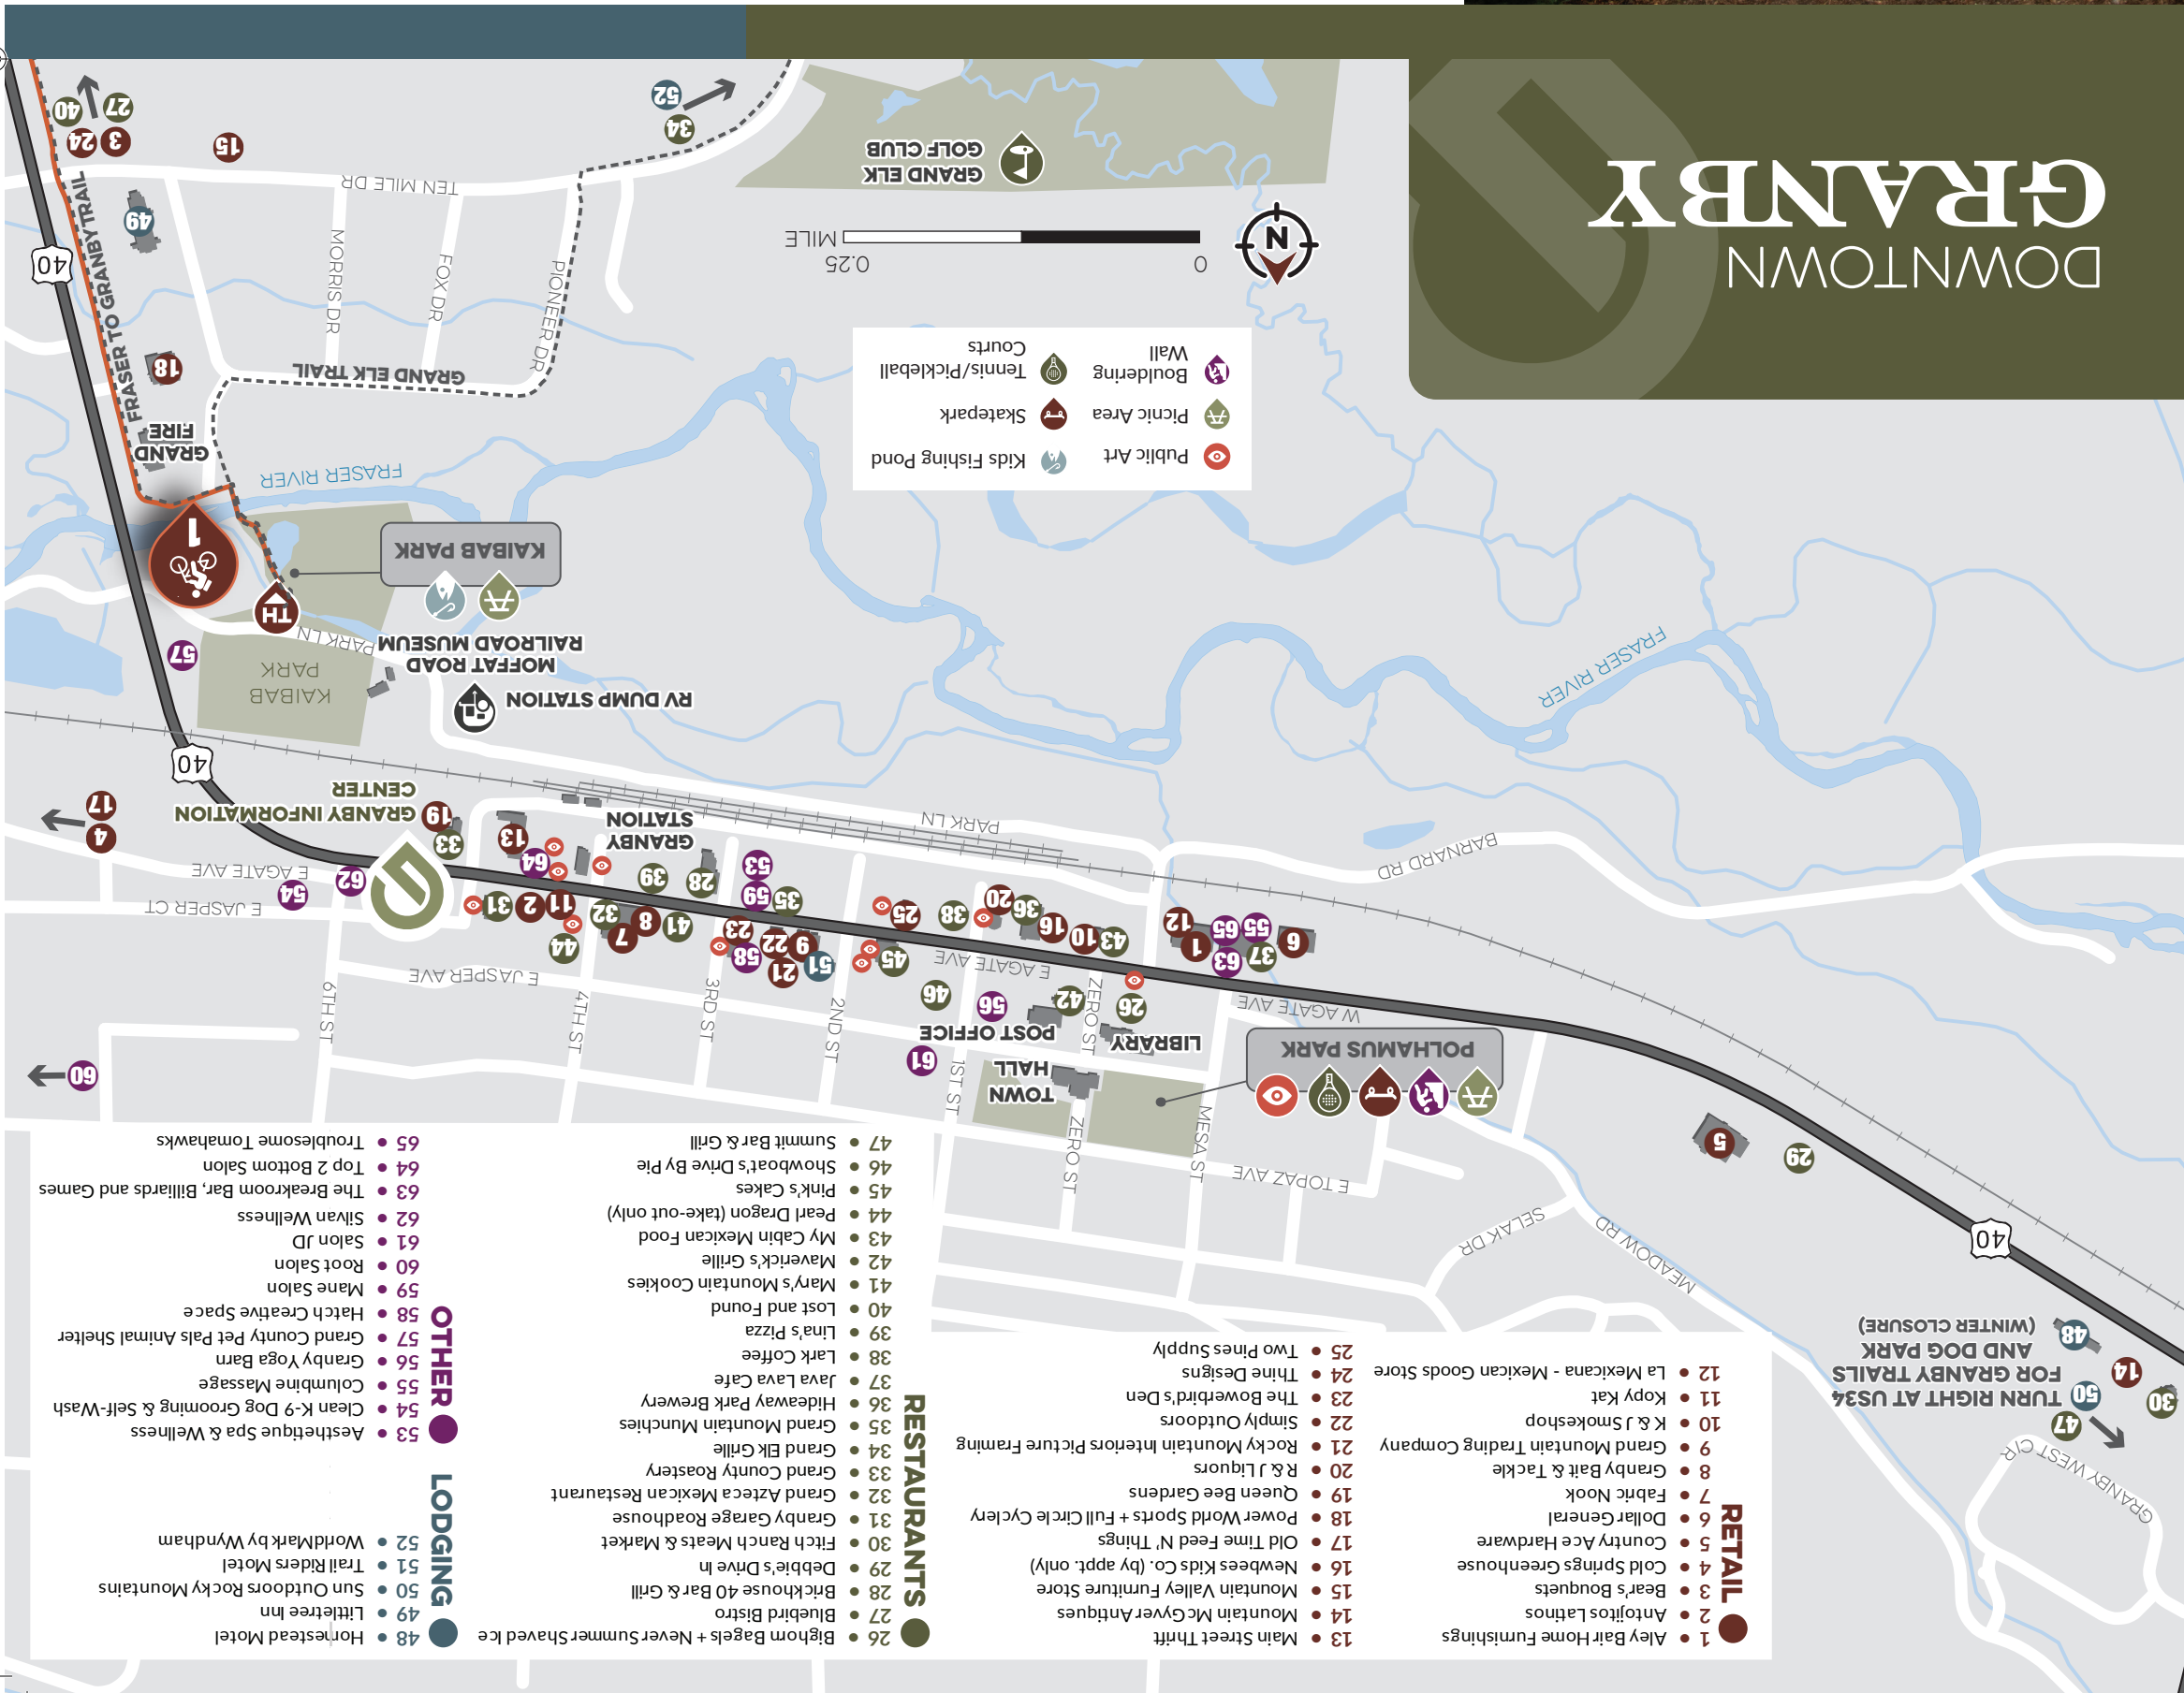

Pack it In, Pack it Out: Pack out all waste, including crumbs, peels, and pet bags. Most trailheads do not have bins, so plan to take your trash all the way home.

Protect Wildlife: Observe from a distance—if an animal moves because of you, you are too close. Keep dogs leashed and remember they are prohibited on RMNP trails.

Be Careful with Fire: Check local fire restrictions daily. Never leave a fire unattended and drown embers with water until they are cool to the touch.

Be Grand: Do not carve into trees, add graffiti, or remove rocks and plants.

Practice Kindness: Share the trail. Most trails are multi-use; please be respectful and yield to other trail users. Embrace our place and our pace.
